Clerk's report to New York Quarterly Meeting – January 20, 2019

Attendance continues to be light at Staten Island Meeting, enough to make us continue to consider laying the meeting down. But the occasional call or email from a potential new visitor makes it seem worth the effort to continue keep that door open. We have dropped back to meeting just once a month, though, on 4th Sundays of each month. Our meetings include Meeting for Worship, social time, and worship sharing.

Visits from members of other meetings in the Quarter are encouraged, as this would enrich the spiritual breadth and depth of any given meeting. Directions are on the web at StatenIslandQuakers.org. By the way, even if you can't physically make the trek out to Staten Island, your visit to our web site would be much appreciated, as every click adds to the visibility of our little mission post.
