

Pie for Parents! Pi Day for kids!

Two great conferences at the same time!

March 13-15, 2020

In the Anna Curtis Center with Sarah Glazer and Mike for 4th & 5th graders it's:

Pi Day: We will make pies, eat pies, play with numbers, play with friends and talk about what makes each of us feel well rounded. We will look at how our group is like a pie – we are different ingredients and have different roles in the pie (crust, filling, etc...) but all come together in one community.

While in Pitt Hall with Julie Glynn and Chris it's:

Pie for Parents: Like the mathematical "Pi", parenting just keeps on going on so we should make it fun, learn to play with that role, and occasionally have pie for breakfast. There will be time in this gathering for sharing with other parents, games, walks, resting, good discussions, communal baking and eating of course.
